

04 Heart Colors (from Deut. 5:18)

John Byron Shank

Pathos & Ethos / Peniel Music & Publishing All rights reserved.

O no, your smile - is fillin' up your face,
Your smile, your smile - is fillin' up your face.
You're drownin' in your laugh - your body floats in space.

Green hearts are for your wife - blue for your mistress, blue.
And, blue hearts are for your wife - green for your mistress, too.
Black hearts for the user - who never can be true.

White hearts for your children - whose souls are trustin' you.
White hearts for your children - who might turn out to be just like you.
You mixed all of these colors - now what you gonna do?

Divorce cuts you in half - with a long dark knife.
I say divorce cuts you in half - with a long dark dirty knife.
Better turn and seize the Lord - before you bleed away all your life.